Death of Vice-Consul Imbrie to Be Probed—Asks Minister
to Have Persian
Bear Expense.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 28.—As a result of the assault upon Mrs. Katherine Imbrie, widow of the vice-consul who was recently killed by a Persian mob, the state department announced today a dispatch of vigorous representations to Teheran.
The communication protested against the situation which culminated in an unprovoked attack upon Mrs. Imbrie. It was supplementary to the State Department note dealing with conditions existing in Persia governing the vice-consul's death.
Another communication delivered to the Persian minister Saturday indicated that the United States expected the Teheran government to meet the expense of an American war vessel which brings the body to America, also Turkish military guards from the United States legation for such time as might be necessary.

NEW LAW INSURES FAIR ELECTIONS

Both Parties May Have Representatives to Inspect Voting Ballot Boxes.

By Associated Press.
FRANKFORT, July 28.—A check by members of both Republican and Democratic parties of the votes cast at next Saturday's primary election is assured by Kentucky's new law, one of the five new election laws passed by the 1924 general assembly.
John A. Goodman, clerk of the Court of Appeals, and by virtue of his office, ex-officio chairman of the State Board of Election Commissioners, today said the law in question provides that representatives of the two dominant parties may be present at the count of votes, to inspect the receipt of ballot boxes, ballots, ballot stubs, and the like, by county clerk and deputies, and to assist in guarding ballot boxes, poll books, and ballot stubs, from the time of receipt by the county clerk until completion of tabulation by election commissioners, and in the event of a contested election until it is finally decided.

"The county executive committee of each party may designate in writing, and issue credentials to a suitable person to be present at a witness and inspect the counting and certifying of the vote in each precinct," Mr. Goodman said. "These two representatives will be admitted to voting places. The county committees may also have representatives at each place where the county clerk or his deputies, are receiving ballot boxes and ballots from election officers and have authority to inspect the receipt of ballot boxes and their contents, and to receive a signed duplicate of the returns as certified on the inside of the cover of the precinct stub book."
"The county committees also may designate representatives for admittance to the county clerk's office to assist in guarding ballot boxes, stubs, poll books, and the like from the time of receipt by the county clerk until completion of tabulation of votes and certification by election commissioners, and in the event of a contested election, until the contest is finally decided."

Election officers for every precinct will count the ballots at the primary and certify the returns to the county clerk. Three days following the primary, the county election boards will certify the returns to Mrs. Emma Guy Cromwell, secretary of state. On the fourteenth day after the primary, August 14, the State Board of Election Commissioners will meet and certify the nominations to the winners in both parties who will receive their certificates.

John B. Stout, Danville, democrat, and D. B. Cornett, Harlan, republican, are the other two members of the State Board, recently appointed by Gov. Fields.

NEW STREET WORK ACCEPTED BY CITY

Assistant to City Collector Appointed at Commissioners' Meeting
Today.

Newly completed paving on Chester and Winchester avenue was accepted at the meeting of the board of commissioners this morning. A report from the city engineer indicating the cost to each property owner was read and warrants will be drawn for payment in accordance with the figures.
William Wallbrecht, Jr., was appointed assistant to Frank Kearns, city collector, to aid in the work of collecting city taxes which will begin soon. The rate of compensation was set at fifty cents per hour.
Request by O. B. Hollingsworth, L. & N. superintendent, that traffic be kept off the Ashbury avenue crossing from 6 p. m. until 5 a. m. was filed and action deferred for consideration.
Permit was granted the Motch Motor company to construct a concrete driveway and install a filling station at the corner of Tenth street and East Cumberland avenue, with the restriction that the gasoline tank not exceed 1,000 gallons in capacity.
The ordinance fixing the city tax rate for property this year passed on the second reading, thus becoming a municipal law.

REECE INJURED IN AUTOMOBILE WRECK

Congressman of First Tennessee District and Wife Hurt at Rutledge.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., July 28.—Congressman B. Carroll Reece, of the First Tennessee district, was severely injured at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon when his automobile turned over near Rutledge, Grainger county. Mrs. Reece, who was riding in the automobile, suffered a broken collar bone.
Physicians described the injuries of the congressman as painful, but not serious. Congressman Reece suffered cuts and contusions about the face and body, and a severe bruise over the left kidney.

Knoxville friends of Congressman Reece last night declared that it would be impossible for him to finish his campaign for re-nomination as the republican candidate for congress. It will be necessary to cancel all speaking engagements, it is said.
At the time of the accident, Congressman Reece was en route from Newport to Tazewell where both he and W. I. Jones, his opponent, were slated to speak today. Out of deference to Congressman Reece, Mr. Jones last night canceled his engagement to speak at Tazewell. The announcement was made through his campaign manager, Ben Allen, of Elizabethton.
Carl L. Marshall, of Johnson City, campaign manager for Congressman Reece, on being first advised of the injuries sustained by the congressman announced that his speaking engagements in the latter part of the week would be filled. Later when the serious nature of Reece's injuries was learned, Marshall withdrew this announcement.

"Better Days" Slogan Receiving Attention

"I wish to thank you for your good letter suggesting campaign slogan. Your suggestion would make a fine slogan and we will give the same careful consideration as we go along in the campaign."

Sincerely,
(Signed) C. L. SHAVER,
Acting for Chairman.
Mrs. J. Campbell Carrill, state librarian, and Democratic National Committee woman, will speak for the slogan at the next meeting of the committee in August.

KU KLUX KLAN ON PARADE SATURDAY

Men and Women of the Order, Robed
But Unmasked, Parade In Town.

The first public parade ever to be staged here by the Ku Klux Klan took place Saturday evening as a feature of the public demonstration promoted by the order.
The procession was led by a band, Regulation white robes and caps were worn by the members, though all of their faces were entirely visible. Two women, marching in two files on either side of the street, came first and the men followed. A few mounted and robed klansmen brought up the rear. The event was attended by silence on the part of the paraders, and spectators, and while a large number of persons witnessed it, no unusual comment was created. There were 501 persons in the parade, according to actual counts.
There was a splendid display of fireworks at the close of the demonstration at the fair grounds. A unique spectacle in this connection was the shooting of a flare which illuminated the police report that the day was not attended by disorderliness of any kind connected with the visitors. Only two arrests were reported and these had no connection with the celebration.

SIXTEEN CONTESTS DECIDED SATURDAY

Democratic and Republican Nominations for Congress and Senate.

By Associated Press.

FRANKFORT, July 28.—Sixteen primary contests will be decided when state-wide primary, Saturday, Aug. 2, sees candidates for democratic and republican nominations for the United States Senate, congressional seats, for circuit judge, and Commonwealth's Attorney, in the preliminary party balloting of the year.

This line-up comprises the entire primary field.

From a national aspect, possible changes will be forecast in the primary. Kentucky has a democratic and a republican representation in the United States senate. Senator Richard P. Ernst, republican, remains in office until 1926. Senator A. O. Stanley, Henderson, Ky., democrat, is up for re-election. The state has three republican congressmen, Congressman John W. Langley, Pikeville, Pike county, J. M. Robison, Barbourville, Knox county, and Maurice H. Thatcher, Louisville. There are eight democratic congressmen, Congressman Alben W. Barkley, Paducah; David H. Kincheloe, Madisonville, Hopkins county; R. Y. Thomas, Jr., Central City; Ben Johnson, Bardonia; Arthur B. Rouse, Erlanger; Ralph Gilbert, Shelby county; Fred M. Vinson, Louisville; and Joseph W. Morris, in the seventh district.

All the democratic congressmen except Congressman Morris are up for re-election.

All the republican congressmen seek re-election.

Senator Stanley's fight for re-election, waged since his return from the national democratic convention where he was delegate at large, finds for his opponent in the democratic primary John J. Howe, Carrollton. In the republican primary, Fred M. Sackel, Louisville, faces Burgess J. Bethum, Somerset, for the republican nomination.

In the Tenth congressional district, Congressman John W. Langley, Pikeville, Pike county, having Scott E. Duff, Chavies, Perry county, as opponent.

Eleventh Congressional district—Congressman J. M. Robison, Barbourville, Knox county, Walter N. Flippin, Somerset, and D. M. Bingham, Pineville, are running.

The republican state central committee at Louisville recently decided upon going directly to voters to name a senatorial candidate.

Mrs. Huldah Ogden, "dirt farmer" of Milford, Bracken county, is the only woman candidate for congress in Kentucky, seeking the seat in Congress won by Fred M. Vinson, democrat at a special election, Dec. 12, 1923. Congressman Vinson is Gov. Fields' brother-in-law and is understood to have the active backing of the governor, now absent from the statehouse on a reported vacation until August 4. Mrs. Ogden is a republican, widow of William B. Ogden, former Cincinnati newspaperman.

Interest in the tenth district centers about Congressman Langley's chance for re-election. There are four men in the fight, two in the democratic primary, while in the republican end, Scott E. Duff, Chavies, Perry county, seeks to wrest the republican nomination from Congressman Langley, who came into sudden public interest over his trial and conviction in the Eastern Kentucky Federal Court under charges of conspiracy illegally to remove whiskey stored in the Belle of Anderson Distillery.

Chief Justice Flem D. Sampson, Barbourville, of the Court of Appeals, is assured of re-election. His name is still before President Coolidge for appointment to the Sixth Federal Circuit Court of Appeals.

CUMBERLAND FALLS IS FINE PARK SITE

Dr. Jillson Includes It Among Possible Sites for Kentucky State Parks.

FRANKFORT, July 28.—The wild and picturesque region of Kentucky's largest waterfall, Cumberland Falls, was described by Dr. Willard Rouse, director of the Kentucky Geological Survey, and chairman of the Kentucky Park Commission, today and added to the Cumberland Gap and the Carter Caves for consideration by the new commission in its study of possible park sites.

"Kentucky's largest waterfall is situated on the Cumberland River 32 miles below Williamsburg in Whitley and McCreary counties," Dr. Jillson said. "The Falls are 56 feet in height; the elevation above the falls rising gradually to a point slightly above the ford."

"The region has many trails leading to points of vantage from which delightful vistas may be obtained."

There are at present, however, no first class automobile roads leading to Cumberland Falls. In the summer time it may be reached by light auto mobile without much difficulty from Cumberland Falls Station, a point thirteen miles distant on the Southern Railroad. The Falls is 19 miles by nearest forest trail from Williamsburg and the territory covered is very rugged.

"The Cumberland River has entrenched itself in a meandering course in the Cumberland plateau to a depth of 400 feet above the Falls. Although the terraces of the Cumberland Fall-region, shales, sandstones, and conglomerates, are all of portable age, the mineral resources are insignificant. While a number of wells have been drilled, neither oil nor gas have been found in commercial quantities. Most of the first class hard and soft wood has been cut out of this section and nothing now remains there except imperfect first and second growth timber."

"Unfortunately commercial interests now propose to erect a dam about 87 feet high at a short distance above the waterfall thus creating a pool extending back to Williamsburg. A dam along the mountain side, according to these plans, would carry the Cumberland River except in times of flood to a point just below the Falls where it would drop on to turbines at a distance of 15 feet and provide a rather important hydro-electric power unit."

"Such procedure, while undoubtedly feasible from every standpoint, would rob Kentuckians for all time of the great waterfall in the state, and set aside permanently a region which, as the priceless claim of undisputed nature."

"The destruction of this powerful project into a region naturally so rich and beautiful seems little short of a great public catastrophe." Cumberland Falls was topographically surveyed on a topographic quadrangle, scale 1:125,000, contour interval 100 feet, in 1921 and was 15 minutes, N. 18° E. Dr. Jillson said, adding that this old map, somewhat generalized, was revised in 1921 and may be changed in Frankfort.

A new richness from an old-time process

Made for pipes—cut for pipes
—packed sensibly to save money

NOW it can be told. Three years ago we decided to revive a famous old secret method of mellowing tobacco—"Wellman's Method", it was called.

For three years we have been quietly trying it out—we, and about a quarter-million shrewd pipe-smokers who discovered it for themselves.

No whirlwind campaigns, no "special offers", no extravagant claims; Granger Rough Cut has made good on its taste alone. There could be no better proof of its quality.

Now we are ready to "tell the world".

An extraordinary pipe tobacco. "Wellman's Method"—now ours exclusively—not only mellows tobacco, but "rounds it out"—gives it a new taste, richer and milder.

There's no other method like it, nor any other tobacco like Granger.

And not only differently mellowed, but cut differently—cut for pipes. The Rough Cut burns more slowly, hence smokes cooler—and a pipe-load lasts nearly twice as long.

And finally—notice the package.

If Granger Rough Cut were packed in fancy lithographed tins, it would cost 15 cents.

But wrapped in smart heavy foil, you get this fuller, longer, cooler smoke at a third less cost. Foil instead of costly tin—hence the price.

Too good to be true? Ask any man who has tried it. Better yet—get out your pipe!

Granger Rough Cut

A Pointer on Tobacco—

The slower a tobacco burns, the cooler it smokes. Also the longer it lasts. This slow burning is due to the "cut". Granger is "rough cut" to smoke slow and cool—cut for pipes, not cigarettes. And Wellman's famous old secret method produces richer fragrance and taste.

WHAT HAVE WE DONE TODAY? But what have we done today? We shall do much in the years to come. But what have we built today? 'Tis sweet in idle dreams to mock. But here and now we do our best? Yes, this is the thing our souls must ask. But what have we done today? We shall lift the heart and dry the ears. We shall plant a hope in the place of fear. We shall speak the words of love and cheer. But what did we speak today? We shall be so kind in the afterwhile. But what have we been today? We shall bring each lonely life a smile. But what have we brought today? We shall give to truth a grander birth. And to steadfast faith a deeper worth. We shall feed the hungry souls of earth. But whom have we fed today? We shall reap such joys in the by and by.

The department is now in the process of reorganizing itself, and a new highway department is expected to be organized in August. HEIR TO THRONE HAS RESPITE FROM EXILE

Prisoner Within Walls of Forbidden City Is Permitted Outside.

By Associated Press.
PEKING, July 28.—For the first time since he became a virtual prisoner within the walls of the Forbidden City 12 years ago, when he was forced to abdicate the throne of China, the youthful Hsuan Tung has been permitted to venture outside of Peking. He recently returned to the historic Summer Palace, relic of the folly of the erstwhile empress dowager and the scene of many extravagant court functions marking the days immediately preceding the downfall of the Manchus.

With his bride of something more than a year, the heir apparent spent most of the day in the palace, and returned to Peking by way of the Jade Fountain, another familiar outlying place of interest to foreigners in China and upon which the young monarch reared as a child.

The Summer Palace, which but for the revolutionary outbreak of 1911 and the establishment of the republic, might today have been Hsuan Tung's summer residence, was built by the empress dowager with funds diverted from the purpose for which they were designated, the building of a navy. Fifteen million taels, representing at that time approximately $10,000,000 gold, were squandered there. As though in a spirit of derision, one of the features of the palace is a representation of a small pleasure craft, built of marble and with its foundations set securely in the water on the edge of the small lake, to serve as a tea-house.

Hsuan Tung was accompanied on his outing by various members of the imperial household.
